Economic outlook conference to offer trade show opportunity

Wednesday, May 7th, 2008 (TIMMINS) - Are you interested in showcasing what your business has to offer to the Timmins regional business community? Every second year, the Timmins Chamber of Commerce hosts a regional economic outlook conference that is intended to give those involved in the region's business community in-depth knowledge of what the region's economy is likely to hold in the future.

This year, the Timmins Regional Economic Outlook summit, or "TREO 2008: Get in the Know" will include a trade show option wherein businesses may reserve booth space in order to showcase their products and services to the rest of the community. With over 150 attendees anticipated, this is a wonderful opportunity for businesses to access a broad and diverse audience.

Along with the three industry-based panels (forestry, development, and mining), we will also hear presentations from community leaders, and have plenty of opportunity to network. "Everyone in business recognizes the importance of networking and developing strong business contacts, and the organizing committee of TREO has acknowledged this in their program by building networking into the event through exhibit visits and a networking lunch", stated Organizing Committee Co-chair Debbie Browne.

Be sure to reserve your space at TREO today. Don't miss out on the opportunity to hear from industry leaders and innovators as they share their knowledge and expertise. Those who register prior to May 12th will be entered into an Early Bird Draw to win a valuable prize.

Hurry to take advantage of our trade show opportunity, as only a limited amount of booth space is available.
