TIMMINS CHAMBER HELPS HOMEOWNERS FIND EFFICIENCIES

Do you want to ...

- solve common home energy problems and make your home more comfortable?
- reduce your energy bills and save money?
- contribute to a healthier environment?
- become eligible for a government grant to make your home more energy efficient?

If so, the Timmins Chamber of Commerce can help.

We are a member of Green Communities Canada which is Canada's leading service organization for EnerGuide for Houses, a program developed by Natural Resources Canada to analyze home comfort and energy performance.

The Timmins Chamber of Commerce Sustainable Energy & Environment Committee is pleased to announce we are now offering the EnerGuide for Houses Evaluation Service.

This service provides homeowners with information on energy-efficient improvements for their homes. We will provide independent expert analysis on the different systems of your home and what can be done to improve comfort and reduce energy bills.

EnerGuide for Houses (EGH) was created by the Government of Canada to:

- further Canada's climate change goals by reducing greenhouse gas emissions from Canada's housing sector
- foster the development of energy efficiency expertise in the housing industry in Canada
- provide Canadian homeowners with reliable energy efficiency information to help them make informed choices when retrofitting/renovating their homes

The home audit is valued at $300, however due to the Federal Government support for the program the homeowner is only charged $150/per audit.

Make an appointment with our certified EnerGuide for Houses advisor to assess your home and discover its energy-using characteristics.

Homeowners purchase this service with three primary goals in mind:

- to reduce home heating costs
- to improve home comfort
- to receive unbiased expert analysis on energy efficiency retrofits as a part of the retrofit-planning process
